

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Yesterday you received an email directly from your building principal(s) with more specifics regarding the transition to distance learning. On Monday morning, teachers across the district will reach out to families and students to reengage. I want to take a moment and thank you for your kind words of support and encouragement as we shift our efforts toward this new model. I also recognize the challenge that being out of school has on all involved. In the coming days, communication related to day-to-day teaching and learning will be coming from your building principals and teachers. I will continue to keep our community informed of our overall situation as new information becomes available. These events certainly place stress on the home environment as our kids are separated from friends and activities and our own work and home routines have been turned inside out. Please continue to reinforce the need for social distancing as we work through this crisis. Stay informed via the Coronavirus Update page on our website. My hope is that you are all adjusting to the incredible change that has been thrust upon us and my wish is for continued health and safety for you and your families.

Matt Curtis

Superintendent of Schools