

Dear Parents/Guardians,

As we complete our first week of distance learning and head into the weekend for much needed rest and relaxation, I wanted to offer my sincere thanks for all of your effort and support as we transition to distance learning during these uncertain times. I also want to thank our students and teachers who have been taking on this new learning environment with passion, pride, and enthusiasm. Times like these offer me an opportunity to hear from and touch base with so many of you. Your feedback has been meaningful and your engagement is appreciated. Our program will continue to evolve as we respond to the current situation and learn from the educational plans that we implement.

Later this afternoon, your building principal will be sending a message that references the next phase of our distance learning plan. We are eager to move forward with this work. I have heard many heart warming stories from our first week and know, despite the challenges we all face, our community will continue to excel in many ways. Enjoy the weekend.

Matt Curtis

Superintendent of Schools